Web Designer - Master of Fine Arts Student Thesis Project

Jesus Last Days Project

10/2017

This was an exhausting project for my final thesis as a student of the Academy of Art University in San Francisco. The basis for the project required an original idea utilising UI/UX design as well as the incorporation of programming and generation of original graphics. I wanted to show the feasibility of incorporating temporal and GIS components into a design of historical significance. The four pillars for my design that I wanted to base it on are the "who", the "what", the "where" and "when." This way we could explore who was involved, what they did, where they did it and when. The timeline shows when and the maps show the where.
